

Hello! My name is Bryanna Costello. Although this is my first year at Hope Community Charter, I'm excited to spend my tenth year teaching as one of the interventionists for our students. I studied at Messiah University and Wilmington University to hone my craft and receive my Masters in Reading, my favorite activity! I believe that a strong educational experience begins with the way we use our social-emotional learning. I've spent the last few years studying social-emotional learning with The Institute of Social Emotional Learning, Mindful Schools and Breathe for Change. It is my hope to use all that I know and continue to learn to provide meaningful and lasting ways to guide students from where they are now to their highest potential.
